

JEN MOLITOR

Lift up Leaders, Creator of the Teacher Freedom Formula

Jen Molitor is a Master Teacher, certified Extraordinary Coach and transformational speaker. She has coupled her years of experience as a passionate teacher and entrepreneur with her training in coaching, mindset, and personal development to empower teachers to love their jobs again. She has created her own signature program, the “Teacher Freedom Formula,” that helps teachers create their favorite class, every year, magically transform the daily blahs of teaching, and become sought-after teachers that accelerate students’ success.

Jen’s ability to instantly connect with educators, administrators, and students has led her to be a sought after speaker in both the field of gifted education and also in engaging, valuable professional & personal development for teachers.

She has presented to leadership teams, School Board members, business teams, parent groups, and in front of the Ohio State Superintendent.

She’s on a mission to change the face of education, so that great teachers will stay in the field of education and become mentors to the up and coming teachers of a new generation.

TEACHER FREEDOM FORMULA (TFF) - The TFF is designed to have you work less, to give your sanity back, & to take control of your classroom, without having to be a super hero.

PRAISE

“Jen is a constant reminder as teachers, we have been gifted with the best job in the world, which includes ensuring that students feel thoroughly loved.”

—Ohio teacher, Amanda Dente

“The best part of collaborating with Jen has been wonderful and creative ideas. I now have the belief that children learn best with a growth mindset.”

—Ohio teacher, Amanda Hof
