

ALI BOONE

AEROSPACE ENGINEER TURNED CORPORATE DROPOUT | ENTREPRENEUR

SPEAKING TOPICS

LIFESTYLE DESIGN.

In other words, retirement living. What do retired people do? They do whatever they want, when they want, and wherever they want. Retirees live like lifestyle designers without even knowing it. How, as a young person, can Ali live like a retired person? What does that even look like? Living wherever you want, traveling whenever you want, sleeping in and going to bed late if you want, watching a movie during the day, saying "yes" to any social event you want to, volunteer for anything you want to... Ali sleeps in most days, travels when she wants, volunteers weekly in California prisons, teaches flying as "fun side gig," and is never required to be anywhere at any particular time.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP.

Are you starting a business to work as an employee in your business, or are you starting a business to work yourself out of work? How do you figure out what kind of business to start? How do you survive the inevitable entrepreneurial roller coaster that you will face in your first few years of business? She has lived it. She will inspire you to live it too.

PASSIVE INCOME.

Think: Robert Kiyosaki meets Tim Ferriss. Robert Kiyosaki explains why passive income is important, and Tim Ferriss describes the kind of lifestyle that can come from passive income. But neither explain exactly how the average Joe can get to that kind of lifestyle from passive income. Ali can.

FEATURED IN

Former Aerospace Engineer gone corporate dropout, Ali Boone is blazing a trail for future entrepreneurs who are tired of being chained to a 9-to-5 job. Her story will inspire you to get off the couch, and start moving in the direction of your dreams. Others say passive income is all hype — she shows you how she actually created it for herself — and you can too.

Ali is an expert in lifestyle design, a business consultant and a real estate investor. She has literally defined non-conformity when it comes to her career. Ali left her corporate job as an Aerospace Engineer, despite the “dream job” status that came with it, to follow her passion for being her own boss and living out what it looks like when you truly design your ideal lifestyle.

She went from being on food stamps in her first year of entrepreneurship, to facilitating more than $18M in real estate transactions in her first five years of business. In addition to running her real estate investing company Hipster Investments, she’s also a pilot, teaches flying, and inspires every day people to chase their dream life.

When Ali’s not working, she can often be found snowboarding, hiking, or volunteering in California prisons.

Her ultimate goal is to one day challenge Tim Ferriss to a lifestyle design duel.

TESTIMONIALS

“Ali is enthusiastic, well-spoken and passionate about what she does and how she chooses to live her life. HIGHLY recommend booking Ali on your show. I am sure you and your guests will adore her as much as I now do.”

- Alison Donaghey, Host of Domino Thinking

“Ali Boone is rare combination of funny, relatable, smart and interesting, which made her an ideal podcast guest. She delivered substantive tactical value, while drawing the listeners into her stories and also making them laugh. One of my best episodes!”

-Matt Bowles, Host of The Maverick Show

“Ali was the ideal podcast guest! Not only did she come prepared and poised to deliver authentic and relevant content, but she also brought her personality and a few funny stories. Looking forward to having her on the show again!”

-Jason Mulder, Host of The Wealth Hound

“Ali Boone is a bright energetic woman with a true entrepreneurial spirit. She brought energy and authenticity to our interview on my podcast, Change Your Story, Change Your Life. People deserve to hear her message because it will inspire those who are suffering in silence trapped in work and lives they hate. Ali’s journey can ignite the courage that allows people to be themselves and follow their dreams.”
