Mira's work is a life changer. It has enabled me to be more effective in my life and in my business by releasing negative emotions, beliefs and behaviors.

Her healing technique is unique and instantly effective. I only needed one session and the issue was resolved. Then there are her amazing coaching skills that I like to call "extreme wisdom and insight". So if you're ready for truth and transformation . . .

I was consciously aware of holding onto self-limiting ideas about myself for decades... (ideas of Hispanic race and of being gay) and had been "working on them" over the years. Mira's work with me made an immediate shift. I feared that the rubber band on my inertia would snap me back to the old bad thought habits....but no!! I am standing in a new light, a new self-assessment, new self-confidence.

Mira is a truly gifted & phenomenally intuitive healer!! She has enabled me, for the first time ever in my life, to more fully engage with people I encounter, both in personal and professional arenas. I am forever grateful!!

Mira - I call her the 'Miracle Woman' - helped me to release outdated beliefs, which sabotaged reaching my full potential. Mira's coaching skills have had a tremendous positive impact on my business as well as my personal life. Core Connection combined with her insights, wit and compassion form a powerful support system for me. I am finding a deeper purpose, mission, passion and joie de vivre. I'm truly amazed how fast things are manifesting with her coaching.

MIRA RUBIN

Bald, Bold and Beautiful

When Mira Rubin took off her wig after 13 years, she took ownership of her power and took on her dreams. Mira is a visionary with a calling to shape a world that works. An epiphany in November of 2017 led to the start of the Sustainability Now podcast, a global movement of creative changemakers sharing information and implementing cutting edge solutions to planetary problems related to food, energy, housing, water, waste, economics, health and consciousness. Consciousness is key.

Trained in NLP, hypnosis and applied kinesiology, in 1987 Mira developed Core Connection, a transformational modality that she integrates in her work with coaching clients to affect profound, rapid and lasting change.

With wit, authenticity and wisdom, Mira employs her extensive training and life experience to empower her clients and her audience to embrace their uniqueness, own their challenges as a path to their gifts, and to inspire them to rise to their greatness by shining and sharing their unique light.

A rare combination of techie nerd, educator, entrepreneur and artist, Mira spent the 18 years prior to the podcast teaching the design and development of interactive, e-Learning, print and web content for her training center, Mira Images, Inc. During that time, she did technical writing, spoke at multiple professional conferences and authored two highly acclaimed texts.

*Each of us is here with a call to be extraordinary, to boldly embody our dreams
and express our uncommon soulful beauty.*
